The Shanty Chalet

By Lynne Tuohy

Article originally appeared in the SooNipi Magazine

For decades, the Shanty Chalet was the social hub of the Sunapee region – a place where Tom Tuohy talked, and Judy Tuohy listened.

Many regulars fondly describe it as the original “Cheers,” long before the television series – a place where everyone knew your name and a great conversation was a guarantee. Frank MacConnell, now owner of the neighboring Skinner’s Ski Shop, said when he’d return to the area from college, the Shanty was his first destination.

“The one thing I wanted to do was stop by the Shanty and say hello to people I hadn’t seen in who-knows-how-long and have a few words with Tom Tuohy,” Frank said. “That was the place we would show up after being gone for months to catch up with everyone. That’s where you could find everyone.”

With six children, Tom and Judy made the Shanty an extension of the Tuohy family home. A section of the restaurant was gated so Judy could watch over Tuohy toddlers while flipping steaks and burgers on the grill. The five brothers and I grew up sweeping floors, waiting tables, cooking and bartending. It was an education in people skills no school could teach.

Now, two decades after the family business closed, brothers Joe and Josh Tuohy have bought and reopened the restaurant on the site of the old Shanty. The pair never left the hospitality business and founded Salt hill Pub in Lebanon in 2003, followed by Salt hill Pub in Newport in 2007 and another Salt hill Pub in Hanover in 2010.

As this magazine went to print, Salt hill Pub at Mt. Sunapee was poised to open in mid-late December to much buzz about the return of the Tuohys.

“I can’t wait for the next Shanty to happen,” MacConnell said.

Lynne Tuohy is an award-winning journalist, incredible mom, and the best big sister you could ask for. She also pours a mean pint of Guinness.

Honest Food. Perfect Pints. Living Music.

Salt hill Pub is an ideal, smoke-free gathering place for friends and family, proudly owned and operated by brothers Joe and Josh Tuohy. Joe and Josh have been offering their inspired blend of honest Irish-American comfort food, perfect pints, good humor and living music since June 2003 at the pub in Lebanon. In February 2007 we opened Salt hill Pub on Main Street in Newport, February 2010 saw the introduction of Salt hill Pub in Hanover, and in December 2014 our 4th Pub at the base of Mt Sunapee opened. We are pleased to be welcoming our 5th Pub in West Lebanon in the spring of 2017.

Salt hill Pub is named for a neighborhood in Galway, Ireland, home of our grandparents. Today, much of what we know about good food and good people comes from “Ma Tuohy.” Stop by anytime for great pub fare and lively conversation and you’ll know what we mean when we say “Welcome to Salt hill.”
